

THE BIRD

Weather: Sh*tty as ever.
The sun will rise in the West for Barry Caslmon and Jim Towne.

Welcome to the Bird.....

The Bird was first raised in honor of the administration of a distant high school. Its purpose was to voice the feelings of the students which invariably ran contrary to those of the Mafia who ran the school for their own fun and profit. The paper and its editors were suppressed and blackballed but public acclaim was so great that issue after issue flew forth.

The Bird banner was carried over high mountain and scorching plain, through deep river and green valley to fair Flint by none other than whats his name. Here, the spirit was instilled in the hearts of certain Mac Rats. This first issue of the Bird is a collection of trite trivia of interest to all Mac-Ratters. If it is a success (and even if it isn't) there will be subsequent issues dedicated to the improvement of MacRat's rights.

 OBITUARIES ***

the Hawk—Mr. Thaddeus Hubert Eaton Bird the Mr. died yesterday after being hospitalized for injuries to the head and wings received while trying to extract himself from the clutches of that notorious Birdhater, Art Barlanga. Mr. Bird, upon whose wise words the world waited, was editor-in-chief of a local paper. He had no living relatives. Services will be conducted by the local chapter of the Audubon Society. The hearse will be furnished by Kingfisher Brothers Trucking.

School Spirit—School spirit died today after a long illness dating back to June of '67. The coroner listed complacency compounded with idleness as the cause of death. Services will be held Saturday.....no one need attend.

Charles U. Farley—Chuck Farley died of shock when he saw Paul Laki smile Friday night at Laes.

Straight From the Desk of the Deceased Bird of Paradise

With the passing of the Hawk, a magnificent era comes to an end. The Bird will not, though, and as long as the youth of America search for truth in this filthy, falsified farce of a society that they have inherited, the Bird will fly on, carrying the truth to all who will listen. In attempting to shut out the Bird word, certain self-appointed critics have proved again the hypocritical double-standard upon which our elders exist. These critics feel that the Bird is dirty. We reject this statement as nonsense because vulgarity is a product of the human mind and can not be put down in black and white. For example: Anyone, who is so lacking of imagination that they must jump at the use of an 'as' a substitute for an 'a', is forgetting that there is no word bad enough to describe Bird weather and the use of a 27th letter is necessary.

We suggest to them that if they really want to protect innocent ears that they forbid their young women to attend school where they might get in with the wrong crowd and pick up some BAD habits.

Faults can be found in any large organization and Kearsley Hi is no exception. Most of the problems are the fault of the school administration's high-handed disciplinary tactics. The problem we wish to discuss at this time, though, is a student related problem concerning the KHS Flyers. For the uninspired, a Flyer is a girl who "flies" from one boy to another. Flirts and teases are just trying to be friendly. Unlike us, the Flyers have no respect for mortal man. Guided by their commander, The Lord of the Flyers, they attack their unwary prey with a fanatical vigor. Any boy who has something to offer is fair game for these cunning girls. Using themselves as bait, they draw the unsuspecting boy into their web, take him for what he's worth, and then leave him to hang. As Maxwell Idiot would say, The old "Love them and leave them" trick, except they get to the last part before the guy gets to the first. The Bird dedicates itself to the extermination of all Flyers but we need your help. Boys, don't take Flyers out. If you must, be strong!!! Smokey the Bird says -Remember, only you can prevent Flyers.

The Bird staff greatly appreciates the enthusiasm with which our first edition has been received. We hope to be able to continue serving the Mac Rat crowd. A situation has arisen, though, which may call a halt to further Bird publications. It seems that the Mac Ratters, intuitively curious animals that they are, have gone on a manhunt for our esteemed editor. Jan Ellis, our first edition distributor and staunch supporter, has been brow beaten under a barrage of questions and many innocent Mac Rats have been persecuted as probable contributors to the Bird. If such harassment continues, it will necessitate the exposure of the real editors and the end of the Bird.

Currently, we can truthfully say that no one has guessed the true identity of the Hawk or myself in spite of the clues inserted in the first and second editions. If you are a wise owl and decipher these clues, please don't be a name dropper. Special thanks goes to the Yakima Apple for diverting that mighty sleuth and busy-body, Art Berlanga. For this uncommon act of bravery, we will forgive him for owning that ugly, Bird sh-t-brown car.

The Plastered Penguin Party

It has been four years now since AuH₂O was decomposed by LBJ and the time for the people of the United States to choose their leader has come again. This year's campaign promises to be filled with political intrigue as the Democratic and Republican parties are already split within themselves on the major issues.

We feel that with world affairs as they are, disention among the major political leaders would be disastrous. We wish to remind these gentlemen of the old proverb upon which this country was founded, "United we stand, divided we fall". Our national leaders must stand together under one banner and, as a public spirited paper, the Bird raises such a banner, the banner of brotherhood, justice equality, and peace, the banner of the plastered Penguin Party. The P.P. parties candidate, Chris Zafiroff Jr., is a silver tongued orator and mover of the hearts of men.

Zafiroff has been known for taking a stand on current issues. For instance when asked if he would put an end to the war in Vietnam and racial violences he replied, "Certainly why not"?

And anyway what red-white&blue blooded American wouldn't vote for a platform of free beer, legal marijuana, and free love.

Statistics show that the birth rate among Democrats is substantially higher than among Republicans. But then, who ever heard of a good piece of elephant.

So many Carry Nations have preached temperance that the public has developed an immunity to any discourse on the consumption of intoxicating beverages. I feel that something must be done about this wide spread disease, which has engulfed the populace. To head my campaign I have chosen that William Wordsworth of the Laugh In set, Dick Martin, who's philosophy on the subject is so close to my own when he says, "I'll drink to that." The Flint Feathered Folks Fine Arts Society

The F. F. F. F. A. Society's last meeting was a smashing success. Paul Iski opened the meeting with a short prayer to himself. After dinner, the audience was thrilled by the heart rendering reading of that immortal poem, "Your true love is far away, but near at heart" by non-other than that master of the linguistic arts, Kid Krause. The speaker, Mr. L. E. Funt, Republican candidate for Master Baiter of County Mouse Traps, delivered a thought provoking address on the evil aspirations of Dong Keys, his opponent in the forth coming elections. Ray Mond completed the program with his version of that ever popular song "Maria".

Candidacy Announced!

The honorable W. Knudson today announced that he definitely is running for the Presidency. Reporters flocked to the statesman's house to talk to the former movie star. Knudson said he would have some answers by Friday of next week.

He said he wasn't following in the footsteps of the California governor, but rather, that the governor stole the idea from him. He admitted that he got the idea from his psychiatrist.

When reporters pressed him, Knudson agreed to comment on some of the urgent issues. The following is an interview held yesterday with the candidate:

Bird: Sir, what do you think of the race riots which threaten to recur this summer?

Knudson: I assume you are referring to the Civil Rights problem?....

Can we come back to that?

Bird: I guess so. What about Viet Nam?

Knud: I favor peaceful negotiations.

Bird: But, sir, the North Vietnamese threaten to kill our negotiators.

Knud: Great! Right there is a chance to solve one of our problems. We could send over 10 million black negotiators.

Bird: What about the tax hike?

Knud: Ah, yes, I was quite an athlete in my day. I loved those nature hikes.

Bird: Do you have any suggestions to improve the Selective Service.

Knud: Hate it. I hate discrimination. If they are selective, they should be banned.

Bird: What about Free Love on the college campus?

Knud: Free Love is nothing new. I have never paid for love.

Bird: Really? Well, what about the use of grass?

Knud: Grass, how I love it. I have it all around my house.

Bird: That statement could be used to destroy your chances for the Presidency. Don't you know the heat is on?

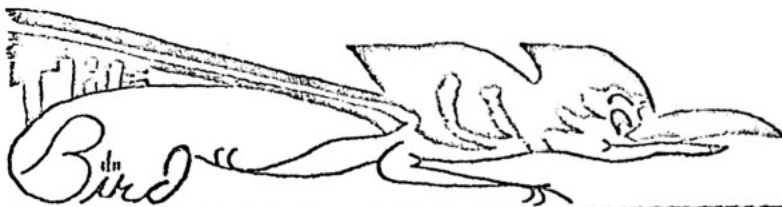

Knud: No, as a matter of fact, I didn't know that. I guess it is getting a little warm in here, though.

Bird: Well, thank you very much for your valuable time, Mr. Knudson.

Knud: Well, you know my old saying, "My time is your time and your time is my time.....sometimes." |||

Straight from the beak

In keeping with the policy of presenting at least one worthwhile editorial, I speak forth on today's most pressing issue -

LITTERBUGS AT MACS

For any of you who have not had the privilege of observing the catastrophic chaos in the parking lot after closing- you can hardly be expected to understand the gravity of the situation. To briefly describe the scene - trash of every kindeg. West's discarded boys, Goyette's universal joint, the Gang's empty refreshment containers in pyramids, & Larry Pethers' brake lining, covering the lot from end to end.

In order to keep the Patty Pushin Parlour presentable, Dandy Davey Dailey delved down deeply into the problem and hired a ~~may~~ boy to keep his lot clean and neat, and so petite. It only takes a few minutes of concentrated effort each day to keep the lot span and spick. The rest of the time, the yardman is left unoccupied, desolute, out on the streets, headed for a life of crime and corruption. NOW MACRATS - Unite behind this cause and help save poor Kilgore.....Right this minute, crumple up this paper and flip him the BIRD.

The Bird on Broadway

The Flint Community Players have started rehershals for their summer production of "Sleeping Beauty" staring the great English actress Maria Candy, who won an Elmer for the Best Supported Actress in "The Seven Sisters," teamed with the New York stage and screen star, Ray Mond. It promises some big surprises but none as great as the one Ray got while practicing the awakening scene last week..... Tryouts are coming up for Fred Krause's new play "Ten Little Indians". Such stars as Alice Baldwin, Maurie Cahill, Lloyd Sturk, Dennis Wates, Doug Cook, and White Socks are going to a great deal of effort and pain in in order to become "red skins" in time for casting.....
The Bird is temporarily out of service-

Thank you for waiting.

New Business is flourishing as Flint has another grand opening. Saturday, The Andrew Fish Football Strategy School will open its doors. Mr. Fish says he has perfected a defence against the forward pass that will give a team the upper hand so they can really slap it to their opponent. We wish Andy luck in his new venture but would like to quote a word of caution from the Fuzzy Bird....."Opportunity only knocks you up once."
